A Thought for Today About love

by
Dr. Johnny R. Almond

“It is not how much you do, but how much love you put into the doing.”
- Mother Teresa

If you were as eloquent an orator as Pericles, but spoke without love, your speech would be meaningless noise.
If you were as insightful as Nostradamus, but unraveled mysteries of the future without compassion, it would be useless.
If you were as selfless as Gandhi and even sacrificed your life, but were unmotivated by compassion, it would have no value at all.

Love waits patiently – more focused on quality relationships than checking off a to-do list.
Love speaks kindly – more concerned with caring for hurting people than telling them “I told you so.”
Love walks humbly – uncomfortable when pride begins to swell the head, resistant to thunderous applause.
Love interacts cordially – no bulldozer demanding its way, no sorehead irritated by slights, no scorekeeper of wrongs.
Love never quits, loses faith, or gives up hope – because it finds infinite inspiration in the eternally unchanging heart of God.

“There are three things that will endure – faith, hope, and love – and the greatest of these is love.”
(1 Corinthians 13:13 NLT)
